Activity 8: Child Rights Photo Exhibition

Activity 8: Child Rights Photo Exhibition

Why we like it: This is a good way to build on different kinds of learning and provide fun options to take some of this learning and creativity home.

What you need: This requires students to take photos at home (with a camera, a phone, or a computer) and a way to email, upload or print photos.

- How long: variable

- How it works:

- Hold a digital or physical child rights photo exhibition with the images and the text.
